

Calvin Harris, and Steve Aoki. Hakkasan will go face-to-face with another rival — the Cirque-de-Soleil-themed Light Nightclub at Mandalay Bay, with its impressive roster of headlining DJs: Skrillex, Zedd, and Axwell and Sebastian Ingresso of Swedish House Mafia.

For those who aren't into the EDM scene, nightclubs like Moon Nightclub (at Palms Hotel and Casino) and Tao Nightclub feature DJs who spin hip-hop and top 40.

DAYPARTIES

You don't have to stop partying when the sun comes up. With summer now in full swing, there are pool parties a plenty up and down the strip. Daylight at Mandalay Bay is currently shaping up to be the hot new dayparty in town, rivaling Marquee's Summer Lovin' night/dayparties with Kaskade, and Encore Beach Club's Daystar Sundays.

DETOX

Before you head back home, take some time to detox at the Qua Baths and Spa at Caesars Palace for any of their signature treatments. Tip: Get there early enough to score one of the heated chairs in the Roman bath area. For those looking for a cheaper (and unique) alternative, check out Imperial Health Spa, which has various sauna rooms with red clay, jade or salt to help with detoxification.

COOL CRAVINGS

Some delectable ideas to put on your summer to-do list.

The Angeles Apple Pie at Ice Cream Lab.

Pinkabet, or stewed vegetables with pork belly.

ALL PHOTOS COURTESY OF THE COMPANIES.

▶▶▶ Frozen yogurt and shaved snow are so last year. Welcome to Ice Cream Lab (icecreamlab.com), the latest frozen treat innovation, courtesy of founders Joseph Lifschutz and Chinese American Tommy Ngan. Choose your base of cream or yogurt and your own flavors, and a “lab tech” blasts the concoction with liquid nitrogen — you read that right — for a lusciously 100 percent organic ice cream treat. ... Be a hit at your next barbeque with Cookie Chips (crunchycookiechips.com) — the sweetness of a cookie with the crunch of a chip. There are no artificial flavors, colors, preservatives, trans fats or GMOs, but the real draw is the fact that — like most chips — you won't be able to eat just one. ... If you wanna satisfy that craving with something slightly less caloric, get your fix with King.com's hit game app Candy Crush Saga. With more than 45 million average monthly users, Candy Crush is the most popular game on Facebook. The game even made an appearance on Psy's record-breaking music video “Gentleman.” ... Sweet-toothed-out? Get those salivary glands going with The Adobo Road Cookbook ($19.95, tuttlepublishing.com), the drool-worthy picture-filled book by Burnt Lumpia food blogger and founder of the first L.A. gourmet Filipino food truck, Marvin Gapultos. Get a leg up on the foodies — Filipino is the next “It” cuisine. ... Now that you've got the recipes, what to do with all that yummy food? Be inspired by Ngoc Nguyen Lay's new book, Inspired Celebrations ($29.95, inspiredcelebrationsbook.com), a step-by-step guide to planning all sorts of events, from an outdoor movie night to a sleepover in a tent to a tailgate party. Full of gorgeous photos by Caroline Tran and yummy recipes by registered dietician Tram Le, M.S., R.D., (healthy chicken nuggets!), Celebrations makes it look so easy, you'll want to throw every party in this book this summer.

